ANNUAL REPORT

Children are our bottom line

About First 5 Solano

OUR VISION

All Solano County children are loved, healthy, confident, eager to learn, nurtured by their families, caregivers, and the community, and enter school ready to learn.

OUR MISSION

First 5 Solano Children and Families Commission creates and fosters programs and partnerships with community entities to promote, support and improve the lives of young children, their families and their communities.

OUR HISTORY

In 1998 California voters approved landmark legislation aimed at improving the lives of young children with the passage of “Proposition 10,” which instituted a tobacco tax to fund enhanced early childhood development services. In 1999, the Solano County Board of Supervisors implemented Proposition 10 at the local level by establishing the First 5 Solano Children and Families Commission.

First 5 Solano is responsible for adopting a Strategic Plan for children 0-5 and their families that is based on community input and community needs. First 5 funds are deployed across the spectrum of children’s healthy development in accordance with this Strategic Plan. First 5 Solano invests over $4 million each year in the form of grants to community partners that seek to improve the health, well-being, safety and development of Solano County’s children 0-5, their families and their providers. In addition, last year First 5 and its grantees used First 5 Solano funds to bring in an additional $4 million for young children’s services.

Note that the increase in tobacco taxes generated by Prop 10 has the effect of reducing the number of people who smoke. Therefore the funds available to First 5 will decline over time. This was part of the design of Proposition 10; however, it means the Commission must seek the maximum benefit for children in its funding choices. The Commission’s investments in system change help ensure that the benefits to young children will continue to accrue long after the funding is gone. Last but not least, the Commission holds itself and its grantees highly accountable for results — services, collaboratives and other supports that deliver measurable improvements for young children and their families.

A Letter from the Executive Director

Dear Community Members,

On behalf of First 5 Solano Children and Families Commission, I am pleased to present the 2008 First 5 Solano Children and Families Commission Calendar, along with our Annual Report to the Community. The 2008 Calendar includes parenting tips, dates of upcoming events for young children and their families, contact information for local children's organizations serving families and other useful information for families. The Annual Report summarizes the Commission's many accomplishments over 2006-2007.

Every child needs and deserves a healthy start and the supports to grow and develop to his or her optimum potential for success in school and in life. In 2006-2007, First 5 Solano invested over $4.3 million in critical services for children 0-5, their families and caregivers. In addition, First 5 funds brought in an additional $4 million for Solano's young children. We are proud that our vital programs and services reached 21,000 children ages 0 to 5, their families and providers in 2006-2007.

Over the past two years the Commission has increasingly targeted its investments towards initiatives and collaboratives that not only provide services but also expand and improve the overall early childhood system. First 5 Solano and its partners have established initiatives for children's health, integrated family support, school readiness, early childhood mental health, quality child care and prenatal services. The Commission's continued support of these and other system change efforts are designed to maximize funding and generate measurable improvements in the lives of young children and their families.

Children are our most precious resource. We know that a child's brain develops most dramatically in the first five years and what parents and caregivers do during these years to support their children's growth has a meaningful impact throughout life. The health, safety, well-being and optimum development of our young children is at the heart of all the work supported by First 5 Solano and our partners. Every person in Solano County has a stake in ensuring that our children have the supports they need to take their place as the next generation of workers, community members and leaders.

If you are a parent or provider of care for young children, we encourage you to take advantage of the wide variety of services and supports that help make our babies, toddlers and preschoolers ready for success in school and in life. Remember that at First 5 Solano, children are our bottom line!

Sincerely yours,

Christina Arrostuto
Executive Director

SNAPSHOT

Nicole entered a BabyFirst Solano teen program in her second trimester. She was not attending school and was difficult to locate at times. She had a lot going on in her life besides her pregnancy, including dealing with a drug-addicted parent. With support and ongoing contact from her case manager, Nicole began to return to school. She gave birth to a healthy baby. She takes her child to all of her well-baby visits, is up-to-date on immunizations, completed the Nurturing Parenting workshops, and continues to attend school. She will graduate next year. With the support of BabyFirst Solano, Nicole has lifted herself up and come a long way.

PRIORITY 1: HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

Children's Health

EARLY CHILDHOOD MENTAL HEALTH INITIATIVE

The Early Childhood Mental Health Initiative increases parent-child interaction and bonding, improves parenting skills, and connects families to other community resources.

SNAPSHOT

One four-year-old boy is just now beginning to show more attachment behaviors toward his grandmother who is raising him. He was abandoned by his biological mother and he had a tendency to be overly independent, relying on no one for help but himself. He is starting to ask for assistance in the area of play and reading books — a very good beginning!

CHILDREN'S HEALTH INITIATIVE

The Children's Health Initiative connects children to health insurance and utilizes schools as "gateways" to health insurance.

INITIATIVE GOALS

Children Have Comprehensive Health Insurance

- Assists families with uninsured children ages 0-5 to successfully apply for subsidized health insurance and maintain health coverage

INITIATIVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- 736 children ages 0-5 were enrolled in health insurance
- 41 schools in Solano County have 100% of children insured
- 97% of all Solano children are insured countywide

In both 2005 and 2007 Solano County earned the honor of being chosen as one of the 100 Best Communities for Young People by America’s Promise – the Alliance for Youth. The 100 Best Communities competition honors communities across America for their commitment to provide healthy, safe and caring environments for young people. Solano County is one of the 100 Best Communities for Young People because of the caring community and collaboration among schools, cities, businesses and county agencies to support our children and youth. Many of First 5 Solano’s funded programs and services, including BabyFirst Solano and the Integrated Family Support Initiative, were highlighted in the winning 100 Best Communities applications.

SNAPSHOT

Child care is critical to continued economic growth. High quality child care prepares children for school and allows parents to work without undue worry about the safety of their children. Sixteen large employers in Solano County have indicated interest in further exploring development of new child care resources to meet employee needs.

PRIORITY 3: FAMILY SUPPORT AND EDUCATION

Integrated Family Support Initiative (IFSI)

INTEGRATED FAMILY SUPPORT INITIATIVE

The Integrated Family Support Initiative connects families to a coordinated system of support through Family Resource Centers across Solano County.
